

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) permits Youth Leadership Academy to disclose appropriately designated 'directory information' without prior written consent. Directory information includes student names, photos, grade levels, and sports participation. If you do not want this information released, you must contact the administration in writing by the first Friday of school.